

Studio Meineck Freelance Designer Job Description

Background

Studio Meineck is a social design studio specialising in co-designing (with users, academics and charities) innovative new technology products for some of society's greatest social challenges. Our first product Music Memory Box is a digital and physical tool for people living with dementia that transforms lives by allowing people to reminisce, reawaken and reconnect through music and memories.

Job Role

We're looking for a Designer to deliver imagery and print for a variety of Music Memory Box focused content. This is a short term project with a quick turnaround but as a growing company we would love to find someone who would be available for work in the future, both with digital design and physical making.

Deliverables

- Studio Meineck book (content provided)
- Music Memory Box Guidebook (some illustrations and content provided)
- Print material for care homes (guidance and content provided)
- Online advertisements for facebook and other platforms
- Print and digital files of the above delivered to deadline of 7th February 2020

Person Specification

Essential

- Digital and print design experience
- Own access to InDesign, Photoshop or equivalent software
- Ability to create content that follows existing brand guidelines
- Someone who is enthusiastic, friendly, engaging and confident
- Great organisation and communication skills

Desirable

- Experience of book printing
- Focus on social purpose
- Knowledge of dementia care

Pay

£3,000-4,000 dependent on experience

How to Apply

Send your portfolio/CV including a short bio to jess@studiomeineck.com with a rolling deadline to start ASAP. We particularly welcome applications from early career designers, people from BAME backgrounds, disabled people and those who identify as LGBTQ+.
